

ALTOCEDRO MALBEC AÑO CERO: High Scoring High Altitude Malbec

- Wine Enthusiast and Robert Parker's Wine Advocate both rated the 2017 Altocedro Malbec Año Cero 91 points.
- Decanter rated the 2017 92 points.
- Stephen Tanzer rated the 2011 90 points, describing it as: "Bright medium red-ruby. Lovely floral aromas of blackberry and licorice. Juicy, nicely delineated and light on its feet, with spicy acidity lifting the black fruit flavors. Plenty of flavor and personality here. Finishes firmly tannic and persistent, with a late note of chocolate."

The winery and vineyards of Altocedro are located in the premier region of La Consulta, Valle de Uco, Mendoza, at almost four thousand feet above sea level. Winemaker and owner Karim Mussi Saffie uses sustainable growing practices to produce limited amounts of terroir-driven wines. The vines range up to 100 years of age. All harvesting, sorting, and crushing are done in individual batches by hand. Fermentation occurs either in small cement tanks or in barrels, and the extract is done with a gravity flow system developed at the winery over 100 years ago. Altocedro has become synonymous with outstanding La Consulta wine.
