This single vineyard Syrah comes from the Alto Cachapoal, the upper part of the Cachapoal Valley, with stony soils and bright, sunny days, cooled down at night by the breezes from the Andes Mountains. With a gorgeous purple color, this wine exudes an inviting aroma of violets, blackcurrants, licorice and spices. Its delicate palate is concentrated, with fine-grained tannins and moderate acidity. Eighteen months ageing in oak barrels enhances complexity and the finish is elegant and lingering.

At Lagar de Bezana we only produce a limited number of cases of wines from our single vineyards located in the foothills of the Andes Mountains. We believe that making wines is an art, which is represented through the drawings on our labels by famous Chilean artist Bororo (Carlos Maturana).
